Prof. Dr. Nandita Patil guiding the students

Dr. Ashwini More said, in the society there is discrimination in the process of upbringing of girl and boy child. Different treatment has been given to boys and girls. Unfortunately, and due to the lack of knowledge of gender equality we differentiated many things for example the colour pink and blue. The advertisement TV serials, films and other social media also contribute a lot in this gender discrimination. Thus there is a need of gender education from early years of education, said Dr. Ashwini More.

While giving guidance on cyber security, Ashwini Desai talked about online fraud and violence. The students were not only guided in the context of Facebook, Instagram and WhatsApp safety, but also explained to the students how they are expected to change the settings by going to the actual app. In the era of artificial intelligence, She gave detailed guidance on what information is important for us, what information is not useful for us and how to set any app accordingly. At the same time, while using social media we should never share any information without understanding what content we are putting out, because in a sense, we are creating our own 'digital footprint'. The information posted on social media today should not be troublesome for us in the future. For this we should fill your information carefully. She also explained that it is important to use these media carefully.
